Some dates change the course of a life.

For our organization, Les Rois du Monde -The Kings of the World, 2012 will always mark the birth of an extraordinary human adventure. I often like to say it is my third child.
Because an organization like this cannot be built on resources alone. It is built with heart.

For more than twenty years, we have gone wherever the need is greatest. We stand alongside sick children, orphans, and those whom life robbed of their carefree childhood far too soon. From France to Nigeria, from Côte d'Ivoire to Morocco, from Serbia to Zanzibar, as far as Chicago, one belief guides us: no child should ever be forgotten.

Then came October 7, 2023.

Like the rest of the world, we were deeply shaken. But very quickly, emotion gave way to one clear truth: we had to act.

Today, we support the Netanya orphanage and around ten hospitals across Israel.
We meet children who have lost one parent, sometimes both. Others carry invisible wounds that neither time nor medicine alone can erase. Every mission reminds us that rebuilding does not begin with words, but with being present. A listening ear. A gesture. A smile. Requests grow more numerous every day, compelling us to look further ahead. In particular, we are preparing a major psychological support program for children and families facing the trauma of October 7. Because rebuilding a life also means healing what no one can see.

This project is only the beginning. Other initiatives are already being prepared, all driven by the same resolve: to be there where hope seems to have disappeared.

Les Rois du Monde will never change the world on its own.

But if every day we can change one child's world, then everything we do is worthwhile. We extend our deepest gratitude to the artists who have agreed to place their talent at the service of our cause. Through their generosity, they turn their art into a powerful force for solidarity.

This auction is essential. It allows us to continue our work, develop new initiatives, and respond to the ever-growing needs of the children who rely on us.

Today, we are turning to you.

By acquiring a work of art, you do more than bring art into your life. You take a tangible part in changing a child's life.

On behalf of the entire Les Rois du Monde team, and all the children we support, we thank you.

Les Rois du Monde
www.lesroisdumonde.org

Twenty years. Twenty years of commitment, quiet determination, and meaningful action to bring light where it fades far too soon. For the past two decades, Les Rois du Monde has been guided by one simple conviction: every child deserves the opportunity to dream, to create, and to be protected, regardless of their circumstances.

Art has never been merely a tool in our journey. It has been our foundation. Because creating is a way of reclaiming one's strength. Because artistic expression has the power to transform pain into resilience and chaos into beauty. For twenty years, we have made creativity both a sanctuary and a source of empowerment, encouraging children to express themselves freely in every possible form.

Today, this commitment reaches an exceptional new dimension.

The charity auction organized by Espace Fine' Art - Marc Assouline, under the hammer of Sotheby's, brings together rare, powerful works of remarkable significance. These works are valuable not only because of their renowned artists or market standing, but because they embody stories, emotions, and an intensity that resonates with the cause they support.
Acquiring one of these works is far more than a purchase. It is an act of generosity and transmission - a conscious decision to transform artistic value into a tangible human impact. This auction is not a social event. It is a moment of commitment.

I feel immense pride and deep gratitude to have been chosen by Marc Assouline to ensure that this event benefits those who need it most. His decision gives even greater meaning to these twenty years of dedication and confirms that art, when placed at the service of others, becomes an incomparable force.

The funds raised will provide support, hope, and moments of joy to children who were victims of the October 7, 2023 attacks. Behind every bid lies a promise: the promise never to look away.

Every work presented is an exceptional piece. Every acquisition is a meaningful commitment.

For twenty years, we have been building. Today, we are reaching even greater heights.

THE VALUE OF AN ARTWORK

For more than twenty years, I have devoted my life to art.

My profession has given me the privilege of encountering thousands of works of art, meeting extraordinary artists, sharing their worlds with collectors from across the globe, and taking part in that invisible journey through which every artwork finds the person who will understand it, preserve it and pass it on.
Over the years, I have learned one essential truth: the value of an artwork can never be measured solely by its rarity, its signature or its price. Its true value lies in the emotion it inspires, the story it tells and, sometimes, in the good it is capable of bringing into the world.

It is this conviction that gave birth to this auction.

For almost a year, I chose to dedicate my experience, my international network, my energy and my time to a deeply human project. I reached out to and personally met more than seventy internationally renowned artists across several countries. Without hesitation, they agreed to donate one of their works-not out of self-interest, but out of generosity.
This profoundly moved me. It reminds us that behind every artist there is a conscience; behind every creation, a sensitivity; and that when art rises above the marketplace to serve a greater cause, it perhaps rediscovers its noblest purpose.
I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to each of these artists for their trust. I also wish to thank Sotheby's, whose exceptional support gives this auction a truly special significance, as well as The Kings of the World, an organization that has spent the past twenty years transforming solidarity into meaningful action for the world's most vulnerable children.

On November 23, 2026, in Paris, the artworks presented in this catalogue will be offered in support of the Children of the Victims of the October 7, 2023 attacks in Israel.

I hope that every reader will look at these works not only through the eyes of a collector, but also with an open heart. Acquiring one of these artworks will mean far more than enriching a collection. It will extend the artist's generous gesture, transform beauty into hope, and turn the emotion inspired by art into tangible support for those who need it most.
Ultimately, I believe this is the true nobility of our profession: building bridges between artists and collectors, between creation and transmission, between beauty and generosity. If this catalogue succeeds in achieving that purpose, then every month of work, every meeting and every effort invested will have found its greatest reward.

For sometimes, a work of art does far more than enhance a place. Sometimes, it changes a life.
